diffraction system is computed. An extension of the field due to its source is also constructed. Using these fields, the cross section for diffraction is calculated. We find that this calculation agrees with the corresponding prediction of a two-channel Lüscher-type calculation, and also with experiment for real-to-virtual photon ratios that are above unity, provided we use realistic quark masses. Our results also shed light on some issues in previous

The segment aired on Tuesday after the wife of a “crowd favourite” caller gave birth to a baby girl. Viewers of the programme were asked to film themselves recreating the episode, which took place earlier this year, and uploaded them to YouTube and Twitter. The one-day-old child was referred to by one
